Job Services Australia - Helping Employers find Passionate Staff

When Amanda at Learn and Play was looking for a new employee who would be dedicated to a career in child care, she called IMPACT. She knows that IMPACT's Job Services Australia team gets to know the jobseekers and only puts forward the most suitable candidates for interview.

From the selection put forward to her, Amanda saw the passion Erin showed for the childcare industry. Erin has been employed full-time at Learn and Play for one year now and is completing her Certificate III in Child Care started in high school through TAFE.

Amanda says Erin is "A very innovative worker, who enjoys working with the children and in this industry. She shows passion for childcare."

Completing a qualification relating to your work can be very beneficial to the employer and the employee.

"I'm learning about what I am doing, gain a qualification in Child Care and also get recognition of prior learning for the work I have already undertaken. It's great because I also learn new skills from the theoretical part of the training."

Recycling and Collections - New Smoko Room

If you've been out to University Drive, Recycling and Collections recently, you may have just walked straight into the old office, which has now been converted into a large, cool smoko room.

The Bundaberg Regional Council knocked a wall out, relined the floors and painted the room, which gave it a whole new appearance. The workers are very happy.

The reception and office area for Tim, Warren, Jeremy and Mitch has moved upstairs giving the supervisors a full view over the entire recycling plant.

This has proved to be one of the most dynamic changes in the history of the plant.

Job Seeker of the Month

Sonia McCarthy

Managing my own business and working in a large organisation has given me the confidence to undertake any task required of me and I feel - given the opportunity, that I would become a resourceful and valuable member of your organisation. I worked for Rum City Auto Group for 9 years and during that time I was a receptionist, workshop administrator, spare parts interpreter and also undertook some work in the finance area.

I have the ability to multi-task in a busy work environment and am open to new work adventures. On my time off I enjoy rugby league, four-wheel driving, fishing and camping. I am sure that I would be a model employee given the opportunity.
